PERFORMANCE AND RESEARCH ASSOCIATE

bjette@grimesco.com

(508) 416-1272

As a member of the firm's Research and Portfolio management team, Ben assists in developing and maintaining policies and procedures applicable to GIPS, as well as managing and reconciling the firm's daily trading activities. Ben also supports the firm's investment team in market research and strategic guidance.

Ben joined Grimes & Company in 2020 after graduating cum laude from The University of Rhode Island's Business School with a BS in Finance and a Political Science minor. During this period, Ben was a select student member of the College of Business's Ram Fund, a student run investment fund that actively manages a segment of the University's endowment. Ben is currently a CFA Level I Candidate.
