Neal French joined Grimes & Company in 2017 after nearly thirty years in financial services. He works with clients who are near or at retirement to help them develop a plan for their life after career and that their financial plan provides the fuel to drive their desires for their next and best chapter.

Neal graduated from the University of North Texas with a Bachelor of Business Administration degree in Finance. Neal worked at Bank of America for 17 years, most of which was spent in the Treasury Management division, managing the flow of funds for global corporations. He began managing investments for individuals and families in 2004 at A.G. Edwards. He then spent a decade at TD Ameritrade. Most recently there, he served as a Senior Manager on the corporate side supporting retail and institutional advice solutions for the firm.

Neal and his wife Jennifer are now empty nesters, with four grown children. Neal is an avid guitar player and is the “front man” for his church band. He also enjoys fly fishing, and travels to a different part of the US every year to go fly-fishing on some of the most famous trout streams in the United States.
